

Please note that below given figures should be used as guideline only. Actual dimensions can vary to some degree depending on shipping line or even container manufacturer. MaxxsTrans BV accepts no liability for below mentioned data.

Door openings are smaller than given inside dimensions. As a rule of thumb you can use 1 cm in width less than internal and approx. 12 cm in height.

For actual dimensions and allowable payload you should always contact the shipping line.

For the tare weight (weight of the unit without a payload) as a rule of thumb use for a 20' unit 2,5 - 3,0 tons and for a 40' unit 4 - 5 tons, whereby Reefer units are heavier than a dry unit

A Flatrack or Open Top container is In Gauge when the dimensions do not exceed the outside dimensions of the standard unit equivalent, Out of Gauge (OOG) is when any of the dimension exceed the standard unit's dimensions. For OOG loads normal transport rates do usually not apply.
